

Cinema International

Country : France

En Attendant La Nuit

For Night Will Come

2023 / Colour / 105 minutes / French

Director : Celine Rouzet

Producer : Candice Zaccagnino

Cinematographer : Maxence Lemonnier

Editor : Lea Masson

Music : Jean Benoit Dunckel

Cast : Mathias Legout Hammond, Elodie Bouchez, Jean Charles Clichet

Synopsis : The Feral family tries to look as normal and friendly as possible, the day they move into a new neighborhood, But their son, Philemon, is not an ordinary teenager. When he gets closer to his new neighbor, Camila, his thirst for blood grows and his difference becomes impossible to hide.

Director's Biography : Celine Rouzet is a filmmaker based in Paris. Her first documentary is A Distant Thud In The Jungle, and her first feature drama En Attendant La Nuit. Over the previous years, she had been reporting stories both in France and abroad for Radio France (France Inter and France Culture), the Swiss and Belgian national radios and newspapers including Le Temps, Le Monde Diplomatique and The Huffington Post. She received the support of the Pulitzer Center and was nominated in several documentary festivals, including New York Film Festival, Douarnenez, Mellionec.