

Cinema International

Country : France

L'ete Dernier

Last Summer

2023 / Colour / 104 minutes / French

Director : Catherine Breillat

Producer : Said Ben Said

Cinematographer : Jeanne Lapoirie

Editor : Francois Quiquere

Music : Kim Gordon Body Head

Cast : Lea Drucker, Olivier Rabourdin, Samuel Kircher, Clotilde Courau

Synopsis : Anne, a brilliant lawyer, lives in perfect harmony with her husband Pierre and their six and eight-year-old daughters, in a house on the heights of Paris. Theo, Pierre's 17 year old son from a previous marriage, moves in with them. Anne is troubled by Theo and gradually engages in a passionate relationship with him, putting her career and family at risk.

Director's Biography : Catherine Breillat, born on 13 July 1948, in Bressuire, France, is a Paris-based filmmaker and writer. She is well-known not only for her distinctively personal and controversial films on sexuality, gender trouble, and sibling rivalry but also for her best-selling novels. Catherine Breillat is in the film business for over 40 years. She chooses to normalize taboos in cinema. Taking advantage of the medium of cinema, Breillat juxtaposes different perspectives to highlight irony found in society.