Synopsis: Hirayama seemed to be quite pleased with his basic existence as a Tokyo janitor. Outside of his extremely regimented daily schedule, he enjoys his love for music and reading, along with enjoying clicking pictures of trees. His past is eventually revealed through a series of unexpected meetings. We encounter a profoundly poignant and beautiful contemplation of visual beauty in the commonplace things.

Director's Biography : Ernst Wilhelm "Wim" Wenders, born on August 14, 1945, is a German director, writer, novelist, and photographer. He is a significant identity in the New German Cinema. His many accolades include three nominations for the Academy Award for Best Documentary Feature for the films- Buena Vista Social Club (1999), Pina (2011), and The Salt of the Earth (2014), which are about the Brazilian photographer Sebastio Salgado and the contemporary dance choreographer Pina Bausch.
