

Films on Environment

Country : India

Ithuvare

So Far

2023 / Colour / 127 minutes / Malayalam

Director : Anil Thomas

Producer : Dr. Titus Peter

Cinematographer : Sunil Prem LS

Editor : K Sreenivas

Music : Ouseppachan

Cast : Kalabhavan Shajohn, Prem Prakash, Vijaya Kumar, Peter Titus, Letha Das

Synopsis : The narrative of film is in the backdrop of Brahmapuram sewage plant in Kerala which was started in the year 2007. The story revolves around Vikraman Nair, his wife Ragini and his son who are victims of the pollution caused by the sewage plant. Life takes a turn around for Vikraman Nair when his wife Ragini dies due to severe lung disease caused by the pollution. After the death of his wife, Vikraman Nair, along with his son moved back to his native village Kanthaloor, an ecologically sensitive hilly village in Idukki District of Kerala. He gets involved in an incident of protesting against a mining quarry in his village which causes damage to a school and end up in the forefront of the movement. Vikraman Nair, already a victim of a man-made disaster at the Brahmapuram plant, fights tooth and nail to stop the mining operation at the quarry.

Director's Biography : His film Minnaminungu (Fire Fly) bagged the national award for best female actor in year 2017. The award was brought back to Malayalam film industry after a gap of long fourteen years. In this film he was a coproducer also. He also directed Crime Story in 2012 and Maram Peyyumbol in 2020. He is also a prominent film producer. He has been a co-producer in many of the films which were directed by him. His debut film as producer Saphalam in year 2004 bagged the national award for best Malayalam film.